ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE'S RULING REGARDING NOTICES OF INTENT TO CLAIM COMPENSATION

1. Summary

This ruling responds to the notices of intent to claim compensation (NOIs) filed in this docket by The Utility Reform Network (TURN) pursuant to Public Utilities Code, Article 5, Section 1804. Like all intervenors, TURN must demonstrate that its participation resulted in a substantial contribution to the proceeding by the unique presentation of facts or arguments that were relied upon by the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) or California Public Utilities Commission (Commission) in resolving this proceeding.

2. Statutory Requirements Relevant to TURN's NOI

Under § 1804(a)(1), "[a] customer who intends to seek an award under this article shall, within 30 days after the prehearing conference is held, file and serve on all parties to the proceeding a notice of intent to claim compensation." It also permits the Commission to accept a late filing where a party could not have reasonably identified issues within 30 days of the prehearing conference. TURN filed its NOI prior to the Commission prehearing conference and it is therefore timely.

Section 1804(a)(2) sets forth those items that must be addressed in an NOI. Pursuant to Decision (D.) 98-04-059, this ruling must determine whether the intervenor is a customer, as defined in § 1802(b), and identify whether the intervenor is a participant representing consumers, or a representative authorized by a customer, or a representative of a group or organization that is authorized by its bylaws or articles of incorporation to represent the interests of residential ratepayers. If the customer category identified is “a representative authorized by a customer,” the NOI should identify “the residential customer or customers that authorized him to represent that customer.” That identification is needed because this category of customer “connotes a more formal arrangement where a customer, or a group of customers, selects a presumably more skilled person to represent the customers’ views in a proceeding.” (D.98-04-059, pp. 28-30.) Participation in Commission proceedings by parties representing the full range of affected interests is important. Such participation assists the Commission in ensuring that the record is fully developed and that each customer group receives adequate representation.

Once the applicable definition of customer is identified, the correct standard of “significant financial hardship” can be applied. Only those customers for whom participation or intervention would impose a significant financial hardship may receive intervenor compensation. Section 1804(a)(2)(B) allows the customer to include a showing of significant financial hardship in the NOI. Alternatively, the required showing may be made in the request for award of compensation. Section 1802(g) defines “significant financial hardship.”

“Significant financial hardship” means either that the customer cannot without undue hardship afford to pay the costs of effective participation, including advocate’s fees, expert witness fees, and other reasonable costs of participation, or that, in the case of a group or organization, the economic interest of the individual members of the group or organization is small in comparison to the costs of effective participation in the proceeding.

3. TURN's NOI

TURN meets the first definition of customer, as set forth in § 1802(b), because it is an organization whose official mission is to represent the interests of utility customers.

Section 1804(a)(2)(A)(i) requires NOIs to include a statement of the nature and extent of the customer's planned participation in the proceeding to the extent this can be predicted. TURN states it expects to be an active party in this proceeding and already filed opening comment and reply comments.

Consistent with D.98-04-059, TURN states its constituent members would be underrepresented but for its participation. In that regard, it states its commitment to coordinating with Office of the Ratepayer Advocates and other parties to avoid duplication of effort.

Section 1804(a)(2)(A)(ii) requires that NOIs include an itemized estimate of the compensation the customer expects to receive. Women's Energy Matters estimated a total projected budget of $26,500 for this case, based on proposed hourly rates for its attorneys.

TURN seeks a finding of significant financial hardship. It asks that the finding of significant financial hardship it received in a ruling issued on March 25, 2003 in Rulemaking 02-07-050 be applied in this proceeding.

IT IS RULED that The Utility Reform Network (TURN) is a customer as that term is defined in § 1802(b). TURN has met the eligibility requirements of § 1804(a) and would experience significant financial hardship if it were to participate in this proceeding without intervenor compensation.
